

THE MARYLAND MONUMENT.

The Splendid and Artistic Memorial to Her Loyal Sons.

Republics are not ungrateful if you give them time. The State of Maryland has just completed and dedicated (Nov. 6, 1909) at Baltimore a monument to the soldiers and sailors from that State who fought for the preservation of the Union.

This monument, in its strong conception, artistic development and beautiful execution, will easily take high rank with the very best public monuments that are artistically worth mention among the many that are erected. All of them testify to the love and honor that is felt for the cause or memory they represent, and as such are worthy of deep respect.

In the erection of the Maryland monument to the Union soldiers and sailors in the war for the Union there is not only expressed the full sentiment of honor for the valor and sacrifice of her sons, but this is conveyed by a simple, strong, complete group that will be admired for its artistic excellence even

MRS. JENNIE IOWA BERRY.

National President of the Woman's Relief Corps, Magnificently Entertained by the Patriotic Organizations of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Mrs. Jennie Iowa Berry, National President of the Woman's Relief Corps, was highly honored by the patriotic organizations of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, on her return from Salt Lake City by being made the guest of honor at one of the largest and most brilliant receptions ever held in that city.

The reception was held at the Hotel, and all suggestion of it being a public and a social affair was completely obliterated by the splendid decorations furnished by the ladies who united in giving the reception. The walls were almost buried under flags, and big Oriental rugs, cushions, cushions and pictures were about in profusion to add to the embellishment of the interior. Beautiful flowers, palms and ferns were lavishly furnished, and great banks of flowers on mantels and in the windows helped out a home-like effect. It was a full-dress affair, and the handsome gowns of the ladies present added great beauty to the scene. Pirkle's Orchestra rendered fine music throughout the evening, and to its strains at 8 o'clock the ladies composed the receiving party entered and formed in line. Prominent in line were Capt. Ed. L. Swen, Commander of J. Z. Cook Post, and Mrs. Martha Coggeshall, President of T. Z. Cook Corps.

Mrs. Jennie Iowa Berry, National President of the Woman's Relief Corps, with her husband, Mr. John A. Berry, stood next in line, and they were supported by Mrs. Georgia Wade McClellan, National Secretary; Mrs. Marie L. Basham, of Des Moines, National I. and L. Officer and President of the Department of Iowa; W. R. C. Hon. E. J. C. Butler, of the Vicksburg Monument Commission; Col. H. C. Rigg, Division Commander of the Iowa Sons of Veterans; Mrs. Lena T. Rigg, of the Iowa Sons of Veterans; Capt. J. H. Fenton, of the local Sons of Veterans; Past Department Secretaries Senie R. Rye, Katherine Farmer, Lydia Nord and a long line of Past Commanders of T. Z. Cook Post.

Several hundred guests were entertained during the evening, and congratulations for Mrs. Berry were numerous. The ladies of the T. Z. Cook Corps were served through the evening by the ladies of T. Z. Cook Post in the supper room, which was a bower of flowers. Many messages and telegrams from friends in distant parts of Iowa who were unable to be present were read.

Mrs. Berry, who is probably one of the youngest women to be elected National President of the Woman's Relief Corps, is tremendously popular everywhere. She is young, a woman of commanding figure and most attractive personality. Being thoroughly up in the work of the Woman's Relief Corps, and a beautiful talker, with fine stage presence, she is not doing at all that her administration will be eminently successful. She, like Commander-in-Chief Van Sant, has announced that everything in the shape of work not connected with the relief of the poor is off for this year at least, and that she will devote her whole time and all her energies to the upbuilding of the greatest and noblest organization of women in the world.

It ought not to be necessary to suggest to the members of the Order that we have been engaged in this work for this year at least, and that she will devote her whole time and all her energies to the upbuilding of the greatest and noblest organization of women in the world.
